

thin(k) bench

Thin(k) bench was born with the idea to create a urban seat (bench) with its own functionality and at the same time it doesn't contrast the environment, conveying a feeling of lightness and fluidity.

Thin(k) bench is composed of two elements in welded stainless steel that they are differentiated according to functionality: single seat and seat for multiple users.

The installation is done by anchoring bolt on a foundation block.

Scale 1:50

thin(k) bench

